MIG-T meeting format (1/2)

Is the current format of MIG-T meetings (i.e. 4 lunch-to-lunch meetings per year with an almost standard agenda) still OK?

How could we improve the organisation of MIG-T meetings?

(1/2)

- A lot of information in a very short time. And the information to prepare the meeting is available in power point and there is little text in word format.
- Maybe one or two longer meetings, and the rest may be in current form.
- 4x is too much, 2x would be enough
- too many information issues, fewer issue, more in depth on strategic issues
- There should be a combination of physical and virtual meeting.
- Fewer meetings, shorter, with more condensed content. Keep online.
- Better to have morning meetings
- Physical meetings from time to time are still needed.
- Discussions are online difficult, so physical meetings twice a year are appriciated
- documents to be discussed during the meeting are sent to members way before the meeting date to have time to review and get any approvals if required.

- Combination of virtual and physical meeting. Agree on focus areas ahead of meetings
- A longer meeting once a year mith be an opportunity to go deeper on a specific topic
